

Party Dictation in Kentucky.

Is it a species of moral cowardice—the fear of the party lash—that makes so many intelligent voters vote for the nominee in every recurring election, be he saint or sinner, competent or incompetent? Or is it culpable ignorance? Every voter who can read and write has it in his power to inform himself on current events, and to acquire at least a general groundwork of our political superstructure. Because our forefathers were Democrats, is no reason we should be; neither are we duty-bound as good citizens or intelligent Democrats, to vote for a man simply because he is the nominee of the Democratic party.

Now, Mr. Tate, although the nominee of a few committees, was voted for and elected; and therein the old-time honored Democratic doctrine of rotation in office suffered ignominious slaughter. Is it not more commendable to vote for a Democratic Prohibitionist than to vote for a chronic office-seeker and office holder, who cares nothing for Democratic principles any further than to the extent that it may induce him into office?

Would it not have been more to our interests as citizens and voters to have refused to let those few committees dictate Dick Tate to us, and to have voted for and elected Fox, that the books in the Treasury office might have been examined? And were they examined by a new Treasurer might we not have ascertained that there is "something rotten in Denmark?"

Retrenchment and reform has often been preached in Kentucky by Democratic demagogues, but so soon as they get into office they forget all about it, and often, no doubt, become spoilers.

So long as we Democratic voters are supine and indifferent; so long as we support the nominee in every instance; so long as we allow a few to dictate to us, and so long as we remain ignorant of our honest, true and exact duty as citizens and taxpayers, just that long will we be under a cloud, financially and progressively, as a party and as a State respectively.

If we have elements of reform within ourselves and amid our own ranks, it is high time they were brought out.

W. H. CUNIFF.

Consistency.
A citizen of the county, whose name is not Brown, but who will call him Brown for the present, as we did him on our office, and was given a seat, and called on for an item of news. He said he had just seen the "darndest" fool in the State down at Anderson's Bazaar. We called for a bill of particulars. He said "a fellow named Jones came in and called for a pair of pants. James Anderson took his measure and found that size 34 would fit him, and showed him a pair of the right size and quality and price to suit. In the lot was a pair size No. 40; he asked the price of that pair and learned it was the same as No. 34, and said he would take that pair. James insisted on selling him the No. 34, but no go; he said the other was a larger pair and had more material in them, all for the same money, and he took them." They are too large and will not fit him, and no one but a "stark natural" fool would buy a pair of pants that were too large for him for the sake of a little more goods."

We agreed with Mr. Brown. We handed him a copy of the HERALD to look over and inquired if he was a subscriber. He answered in the negative, and we solicited him to become a subscriber, but he declined, saying that he could get the Weekly Courier Journal and several other weeklies much larger and containing much more reading matter than the HERALD for the same or less money, and was taking the Cincinnati Enquirer. We asked him if the Enquirer had any news about his people, his county, his town, his neighborhood, anything about the people and locality he was interested in, and did it fit the HERALD. In other words we had not a "stark natural" fool for sale of quality, although it did not fit. He saw the "point," blushed away back behind his ears and said if we would not give him a way he would take it, and take a copy for his brother in Illinois, which he did and swelled our cash on hand to the extent of three dollars.

Now, kind reader, take a lesson from the above and get the paper or garment that fits, and do not go off after quantity.

Boatmen.
The result of the late election furnishes food for sober thought. Logan, Grayson, Breckenridge and Hopkins have each elected Republicans to the legislature. Why is this? May it not be the result of bores? When parties become so powerful, the tendency is for the worst elements of them to manage by party tricks and machine methods to get control of the organization, and thus foil members of the ring on the party against its will. This can only succeed for a time. Good men will rebel against bores sooner or later, and vote to the bosses when they do get their chance up. The result in the above named counties will doubtless work good to the Democratic party in them. They will reorganize with their best men in the lead, and go on conquering and to conquer.—Butler Co. News.

It has been definitely settled that the next Legislature will be composed of 116 Democrats, 21 Republicans and one Independent Republican. Counting the latter with the Republicans the Democratic majority will be 74 on joint ballot. The political composition of former Legislatures is shown here:

1867-121 Democrats, 17 Republicans.
1869-118 Democrats, 20 Republicans.
1871-107 Democrats, 21 Republicans.
1873-121 Democrats, 17 Republicans.
1875-108 Democrats, 20 Republicans.
1877-121 Democrats, 17 Republicans.
1879-108 Democrats, 20 Republicans.
1881-121 Democrats, 17 Republicans.

Driskell's Trial.
The tri-weekly Inquirer says: "The trial of the two cases of the Commonwealth of Kentucky against Henry Driskell for carrying concealed weapons came up in Calhoun Wednesday. He was found guilty in both cases; in one his punishment was fixed at $25 fine and ten days imprisonment in the county jail, and in the other a $75 fine and twenty days imprisonment, making a total of $100 and thirty days in the two cases. In the action against him for shooting with intent to kill, he waived an examining trial, and was held to await the action of the grand jury in December, but for some reason that action was set aside, and his trial for that offense will take place Monday, August 17th."

Ho! For the Louisville Exposition.
The Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwest Railroad Company are selling tickets from Beaver Dam to the Louisville Exposition at $5.00 for the round trip, good for fifteen days from date of sale, with a rebate of $5 if presented to the agent at Beaver Dam on or before day of expiration of ticket. This ticket admits the holder thereof into the Exposition. Similar arrangements from other points at proportionate rates. 3347

Administrator's Sale.
As administrator of Charles J. Lawton, deceased, I will, on Saturday, August 29th, 1885, at his late residence in Hartford, Ky., offer for sale at Public Auction, a lot of household and kitchen furniture. All sums of $10 or under cash in hand, all over $10 on a credit of six months with approved security. Sale will begin at 2 o'clock p. m., promptly.

STATE NEWS.

The taxable property in this State was assessed at $13,000,000 more this year than in 1884.

Work is progressing satisfactorily on the railroad from Cloverport to Benningville. They are now laying the track.

The city of Owensboro has sued F. T. Clarke and his sureties as Tax collector for a balance of $7,334.63 claimed to be due.

Joseph Sale, the fourth of the Western county counterfeiters, was arrested by special deputy Louis Mason, last week, and carried to Louisville and jailed. He pleaded not guilty.

The Hawesville Democrat has suspended publication. The house it occupied has been sold since the great fire, and the proprietor being unable to get another house, he was compelled to suspend until others were built.

A fire at Frankfort Monday morning of last week destroyed $75,000 worth of property. Insurance $40,000. It started in Lee Harris dry goods store and consumed that building and the three story building of Peter C. Sowers. It points very strongly to incendiarism.

The body of a man, badly decomposed, was found hanging in the woods near Paducah. His coat was lying neatly folded on the ground beneath him, and there were other evidences of suicide. A memorandum book of B. Weille & Son was in one of the pockets, but nothing by which he could be identified was found.

The State Sunday School Convention of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Kentucky meets at Mayfield, August 25, and continues three days. Reduced rates have been secured on return tickets. A good programme has been arranged. Speakers from other States are expected. All schools are earnestly requested to send delegates, two or more from each school. Send your names to F. T. Webb, of Mayfield, and he will select you a good home.

Lon Howard, who killed Cal Smith at Livia, was brought to the city yesterday by his father and delivered over to the officers, a bench warrant having been issued against him since the grand jury indicted him for murder. Maj. Hayerat, his attorney, appeared to the judge not to confine Howard in jail with the criminals, claiming that he was a lunatic and irresponsible for the killing of Smith. The court concluded that as a jury had pronounced Howard sane, and as Mrs. Smith had complained to the authorities since her husband's death that she feared Lon had designs on her life, also, he had best be confined. During the remarks Howard sat on a window sill in the rear of the courtroom gnawing a bun fresh from a bakery, and apparently quite unconcerned. His case will not be tried until the January term, and he will lie in jail for six months.—Owensboro Messenger.

Revenue Changes.
About twenty-five resignations of the internal revenue force for this district have been sent in, and in addition to these the commissions of the following fifteen members of the force have been revoked: E. H. Allen, W. J. Barnett, J. W. Bennett, Clay Chissem, S. A. Hicks, J. Held, Jr., J. T. McIntyre, C. J. Werner, storekeepers: S. V. Goode, R. W. Hays, E. T. Harper, M. Meredith, S. A. McHenry, W. F. Pate, W. G. Morton, storekeepers and gaugers. Several vacancies having thus been made. Mr. Wood has set about filling the depleted ranks and has accordingly recommended the appointment of twenty-seven Democrats, tried and true.

Mr. Wood has appointed Mr. James B. Quarrier of this city, and Hon. A. P. Simpson, of Russell county, as deputy collectors to assist Mr. C. W. Thomas in his division during the brandy season, which will last for a period of three months. The headquarters of the division are at Edmonston, and it is known as the Mountain district. Mr. Warner Grider, of Bowling Green, has also been appointed to assist Mr. W. G. Mason in his division.

The following Democrats have received appointments as storekeepers: Col. J. F. Gentry, Trigg county; Maj. W. P. Hawes, Daviess county; Messrs. Arch D. Brown, Henderson county; J. O. Madden, Hancock county, and James M. Glass, Christian county.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Sutton News.

Mr. R. W. Hocker, formerly of this place, but who has been a resident of Illinois since 1882, returned to his home in Sutton recently full of enthusiasm. I'll tell you what is the matter boys, he has found him a wife in Illinois. He thinks she is a "daisy," very likely she is, but she cannot show up with our Kentucky or Ohio county, or Sutton girls—or—Prosperity attend you Dick.

Our fall and winter school will be taught by Miss Mattie Turner, a competent and experienced teacher.

A Sunday school of perpetual interest is in progress at Green Briar school house, under the control of H. D. H. Hocker as superintendent. This is a work of great importance, and if carried out successfully, great results may be attained.

Married at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Johnson, Mr. E. R. Chapman, to Miss Mary Johnson. The groom is a young man of integrity, morality and sobriety. The bride is a young lady of perfect beauty, grace and very industrious. May their pathway through life be harmonious.

Our highly esteemed young friend, Mr. Warren L. Turner, is again with us looking as familiar as ever.

Mr. Alonzo Brown, of this vicinity will teach the fall and winter school at Rosine this coming school year. Mr. Brown is thoroughly educated, and a teacher of experience, and has given general satisfaction everywhere he has taught.

Nicholas Hocker, aged 78 years, departed this life August 2nd, 1885. Uncle Nick, as he was commonly called, was a man of integrity and morality. He was an earnest Christian and opened his heart and received Christ as a guest to abide with him, and with him he received the precepts of the Master as the rule of life. The vows which he assumed on joining the church were always sacred in his eyes. Amid the vicissitudes of life he was calm, patient and consistent, recognizing the providence of God and his willingness to hear prayer. He loved the church and was greatly concerned for the purity of his members, because in that he believed lay much of his power.

A social was given at the residence of Mr. Weaver Austin last Saturday night. Miss Clarence Morehead, a beautiful and fascinating young lady, and Prof. Haag of South Carrollton were in attendance, and several of our most worthy young men of Sutton. The night was very enjoyable to all present.

Washington Letter.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 19, 1885.
Editor Herald:
It has for years been the custom to allow departmental clerks thirty days leave of absence in a year, and thirty days additional "sick leave" with pay. But this has been changed so as to allow only thirty days in all. This leave has usually been taken in the summer months, but so far this year but few leaves have been applied for, compared with what have been granted in the same months in previous years. Many of the clerks are fearful that if they should take a leave it might be extended indefinitely without pay, and so their courage to ask for it is very weak. But there is little need of any one leaving Washington in summer. At this season of the year the foliage, plants and shrubbery which adorn our circles and parks are in the height of their glory. The least observant person can scarcely pass by them without being conscious of a pleasurable emotion.

The medical museum, which occupies the old Ford's Theatre on Tenth street, made historic by the assassination of President Lincoln in it, is in luck. Congress at its last session appropriated $200,000 for the erection of a new building. The site selected is the Smithsonian grounds, where it will stand alongside the Smithsonian and National museum buildings—places well known to every person who has ever visited Washington. Bids just received for its erection range from $179,000 to $223,000.

Lieut. Greely's health is not as bad as reported. He is spending the summer in Massachusetts, and expects to leave in October for Scotland, but his report on the Arctic expedition will be given to the public before he sails for that country. This report will be printed by the Government at its own printing office in this city.

Great difficulty is experienced every winter in properly and economically heating the various government buildings here, many of which cover an area of over 90,000 square feet. With the view of remedying the evil a stock company has just been organized to heat buildings generally by means of superheated water, forced through mains laid underground. The water is made to fill the pipes, and heated above 212° temperature, and is designed to take the place of steam and furnace heat heretofore used. If it should ever be adopted by the Government for heating its buildings here there will be "millions in it."

One of our most prominent merchants has on exhibition in his store window on Penna. Ave., the largest brook trout ever seen. It weighed ten pounds when caught in Rangeley Lake, Maine, and measures thirty inches from head to tail, and eighteen inches in circumference. It belongs to George Sheppard Page, of New York City, one of the best known fishermen in the country, and was sent here to a celebrated taxidermist to be mounted. It will be returned to New York this week. W. H.

Excursion Rates.
The C. O. & S. W. R. R. Co. are selling round-trip tickets from Beaver Dam to Dawson, good for ten days, for $2.25, and good for 30 days for $2.80. They also are selling round-trip tickets over any part of their line, to be used between 7 o'clock p. m. Saturday, and 8 o'clock a. m. Monday, at four cents per mile one way.

Fordville Notes.

Weather still hot and dry. Some fields of corn are so parched and dry, hardly more than a half crop can be expected. Yet, there are other portions of this district that have suffered for rain more than here in the Adams Fork country.

The largest gathering of people ever assembled in this part of the county was in attendance during the Association last week. We had more preaching (and that was good) than at any Association I have yet attended anywhere. This was one of the commendable features of this great gathering.

Mr. M. M. Truman entertained at his home, during the Association, eleven guests. Mr. Sam Keown entertained the "Little Man," Mr. Gideon Allgood, of Yelvington.

The editor of the Kentucky Baptist was here during the meeting, mixing with his many friends and acquaintances, and preached once.

The people were glad to be entertained by Dr. J. S. Coleman, in one of his able sermons, during the Association.

Professors Alexander and Rhodes, of Hartford, were here last week during the meeting, in the interest of Hartford College, and I trust secured several pupils.

Mr. C. T. Sutton and family, of Cloverport, were down last week visiting friends, and returned home Sunday.

The Misses Whittinghills, of Rosine, are visiting the family of E. W. Truman this week.

Miss Alice Sullenger and sister, and Miss Lala Walker were up during the Association, and were entertained at the residence of Mr. J. T. Smith.

Miss Janna Miller, of Panther creek, is visiting Mrs. E. A. Truman this week.

Mr. J. T. Smith and wife went to Owensboro some three weeks ago, at which place Mrs. Smith was taken very ill, and is still at this writing in a low state of health. Her many friends here are anxious in her behalf. She is being treated by Dr. Joe Hale.

Miss Ida Coombs will take charge of the Fordville school during the present term. We wish her great success.

Mr. J. E. Sutton is home this week. He goes to Cromwell to take charge of the school on the 31st of August.

The election here passed off quietly, until late in the evening, when bad whisky predominated. They raised a row, accompanied with rocks and clubs. No one was killed. H. C. T.

Beaver Dam.
AUG. 17, 1885.

Editor Herald:
Still we have no rain. The corn crop in this vicinity will be lighter than ever known, perhaps.
The health of the people is reasonably good.

Mrs. Sarah A. Chinn, wife of our fellow citizen, John W. Chinn, departed this life about sunset on the evening of the 15th inst., after a long and painful illness. For weeks she had seemingly been lingering on the margin of the "last river," yet through all she retained her consciousness and bore her sufferings without a murmur. Mrs. Chinn was a good woman, a kind neighbor, and a devoted wife and mother. From our childhood we have known her, and she will long retain a tender place in our memory.

A little daughter of Mr. George H. Barnes had her arm fractured by falling from a little "express wagon," a few days ago. Dr. J. J. Mitchell set the bone and it promises to do well.

Mr. Thos. Her, of Pinechoc, lost two little children on Saturday last, of flux. This is a bereavement to the family.

Rev. D. J. K. Maddox filled his regular appointment on Saturday evening and yesterday. He resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church at this place, to take effect at the next meeting. Bro. Maddox has served the church at this place for several years, in a very efficient and acceptable manner, and will doubtless be recalled.

Rev. J. S. Taylor and wife, of the Bell's Run neighborhood, were at church at this place yesterday, en route for the Gasper River Association, which convenes at Salem, in Butler county, to-morrow.

Mrs. Belle Glenn, of your city, has been visiting relatives in this vicinity several days back.

Miss Morehead, of South Carrollton, is visiting Miss Emma Lee Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Barnard are spending a few days at Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Nave and their little daughter, Bessie, are visiting relatives in Davies county.

Cartmen have begun the work of erecting a nice and commodious residence for Mr. Ben T. Gray, on the east side of Main Street.

Dr. J. J. Mitchell is having a residence built on the west side of Main Street.

Marshal W. H. Blankenship arrested a man at C. T. Barnard's, yesterday, on suspicion of his being one of the White Plains robbers. He had been at Mr. Barnard's several days, and when arrested, sought to make his escape by flight, but was recaptured in a cornfield and brought to Beaver Dam, and from there he was taken to White Plains on a night train. There is but little doubt of his being one of the robbers. He had shaved his beard off after going to Mr. Barnard's, but denied ever having worn burndies. He also admitted that he had been in the penitentiary and made his escape.

Centertown.

Geo. M. Rowe, of Petersburg, Ind., was here a week ago, on a visit to his many friends. Geo. M. is engaged in hotel keeping. He has the best house in his town.

I. B. Dexter, of Butler county, spent a week with relatives here recently, returning Sunday.

Most, Warden has gone to Louisville, or Cincinnati, to attend medical school.

Rob. Ford returned from his trip to New York a few days since, perfectly satisfied to keep shop here awhile.

Rev. E. V. Phipps preached here yesterday to a small audience.

Several new cases of flux since I wrote last. Mrs. Emeline Oglesby, and her son, Albert have it now. Sam B. Bishop did not have flux, as was reported. He is at his brother J. M. Bishop's, rusticating, having had a bilious attack.

J. W. Greenwood will build a bridge and do some levying in Walton's creek flats on the Point Pleasant and Hartford road.

Stroud & Dexter are about ready for saving. They grind Fridays and Saturdays.

Miss Clara Patterson has secured the school at the Brown school house in the Equality neighborhood. A. C. Hocker, of Beaver Dam, will probably teach at Stony Point. Geo. T. Tinsley has the school at Walton's creek. A. Lee Bennett has secured a good school near Bremen, Muhlenberg county.

Uncle Abe Jago was thought to be fatally ill last week, but at last accounts it was learned he would recover.

John Leasure and family are visiting near Buckhorn.

The change in the mail route gives very general satisfaction.

John R. Phipps and John L. Barnett came down yesterday to Geo. Rowe's. Some corn fields have nearly dried up, and some tobacco crops are almost literally ruined by the fearful drought.

Uncle "Buck" Wade is seriously recovering from a severe attack of cold and a bad cough. Mrs. Wade has also been quite indisposed lately.

The shortness of crops has caused some of our people to begin to cast about for something by which to keep the wolf from their doors. Some will engage a new in the log business.

Jim Renier and Jasper Ford went to work for J. D. Bell, on Green river, but didn't stay long. They returned several days since.

Mattie's Sauce.
BEDA, KY., August 17th, 1885.

Editor Herald:
Who could write proxy articles when it is so warm that the thermometer is singing ninety and nine?

Owing to the long and protracted drought, which has prevailed since last June, our crops are very light. The corn crop will be about sixty per cent. of an average one; tobacco seventy per cent. This estimate is based on the crops in this immediate vicinity and is mainly correct.

Miss Laura London, after paralyzing my heart, returned to her home in Rockport last Thursday.

The winter session of the district school here will begin the first Monday in September, under charge of Prof. Isaac Hoover and Miss Alice D. Bennett.

The farmers of this section will not make much of an exhibit of stock at the fair.

Miss Gabe Bennett will visit Miss Ira Festus, in the No Creek neighborhood this week.

A protracted meeting is in progress here; it is conducted by the Rev. Mr. McDonald, who has been called to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church, he arrived here last Monday and preached his initial sermon on the following night. He is said to be a gentleman of excellent culture, an energetic and faithful pastor and a good speaker.

"Sugar Beetle" was in town last week looking like the patent on his matrimonial aspirations had run out.

Strange, but your representative in these parts has never yet had the pleasure of writing up a matrimonial affair; but he has the blessed hope that some of the chronic cases will have been on hand for years will get "off" when the coming matrimonial season arrives.

Messrs. Godshaw and Foster are most done prizing tobacco.

The Asbury men in this community look as sick as a lousy calf that had been washed in tobacco juice, and as melancholy as I was the other night when my girl said she had company and didn't have any.

Miss Mary L. Sutton, who has been visiting relatives here for the past week, returned home yesterday.

Miss Belle Stevens, of the lower No Creek neighborhood, is visiting Misses Mary and Emma Stevens yesterday.

Miss Mary Chinn, of Beaver Dam, was visiting her cousin, Miss Mattie Chinn, two of these days last week.

Sarcastically, MATTIE.

A Crank.
Our crank that we gave account of last week who claimed to be a son of Jesus Christ went his way down to the neighborhood of Elijah Miller's where he acted so strange that they told him not to stand on the order of going, but go at once. He did so. He told them his name was Pendleton. The next place we heard of him he turned up in Greenville. The Greenville Echo of last Thursday, says:

On last evening rather a strange looking character passed through town. He had neither hat nor shoes and took the middle of the street, wagons, and in fact everything he met, had to give way for him. He turned neither to the right nor left. Deputy sheriff, Tom Pannell followed him, and overtook him at the foot of the hill beyond town, on the Russellville road, where he arrested and brought him back to town. The man is evidently crazy. He gives his name as Ed Pendleton and is a son of Thos. Pendleton, who used to live near Riedel in this county, that his home is in Davies county now and that he is on his way to Rochester fishing. He has a short stick, which he carries on his back to kill devils with, says he has killed hundreds of them. He was held as a lunatic and placed in jail, till his relations could be communicated with. He is evidently crazy.

Suffering Women.

DR. J. BRADFORD'S FEMALE REGULATOR!

ATLANTA, GA., Feb. 26, 1884.
DR. J. BRADFORD: Dear Sir:—Some fifteen years ago I examined the recipe of Female Regulator, and carefully studied authorities in regard to its components, and then (as well as now) pronounced it to be the most scientific and skillful combination of the really reliable remedial agents known to science, to act directly on the womb and uterine organs, and the organs and parts sympathizing directly with these; and, therefore, providing a specific remedy for all for all diseases of the womb, and of the adjacent organs and parts. Yours truly,
JESSIE BOILING, M. D., D. D.
